Stressed with your little ones under your feet, with no space to play?

Anxious for the summer months when your kids will be playing in the streets because you have no garden space for them to play?

Do you and your family find yourselves spending hours at your parents' home, because you have no space for the children to run around in your own place?

Are your children returning from living abroad with their 3 / 4 little ones and you wish to see them settled in a spacious home?

Dreading the thought of yet moving once again to another tiny short term flat?

Planning to move back to England with your growing young family and clueless where to go?

Feeling overwhelmed from living in an overcrowded apartment?

DREAMING OF MOVING TO AN EXPANSIVE AND HEALTHY ENVIRONMENT?

INVITING YOU TO EXPLORE CANVEY ISLAND

Dear Readers

As we have written about previously the government have said they will be increasing the AET (the amounts people on UC need to earn in order to be exempt from work related requirements).

This change will come into affect on 13th May.

The new amounts are £892.32 for a single person and £1437.63 for a couple. (Where one member of a couple is exempt from earning, the single rate applies to the other member).

Dear Grateful Family

Shomrim thank you for your kind words. We are relieved to have assisted with resolving the theft by your cleaner.

We recommend always asking to see a passport or official ID from all cleaners, taking a copy of it, and checking their references. It's also wise to lock away valuables; notably, the master bedroom sock drawer is not a safe spot for jewellery.

We appreciate your trust in Shomrim, and if there's anything more you need, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Warm regards,

Shomrim London North & East

Dear EM

Regarding your letter in the Write Lines of the erev Pesach issue, you might be surprised to know that 95% of men are not home to help their wives erev Pesach. Just because your husband is on a "low wage" and has a marvellous chance to work tirelessly being mechanech our heilige nashomas, is not different to almost every father, husband, etc. who works hard to bring parnosa and working extra hours erev Pesach. So being a wife of a melamad doesn't give you entitlement. It's your husband's choice of job.

All shopkeepers, etc. are working hard extra hours yet the wives don't expect them to be home to help.

So why do you?

C.R.R.

Dear Members of Stamford Hill Community

We have amazing organisations and chesed in our community, but we have an issue. And it's time everyone thought about it.

Each organisation has its own criteria of who is eligible for services. And the people that fall into this category receive the service.

Recently a family member was involved with Social services and is not able to receive any service from Social service because she lives in Stamford Hill and there is an organisation that gets money from the government for Jewish people in Stamford Hill.

When organisations close their door to Yiddishah neshamas it's so unfair as we are all part of this community and if the community don't take responsibility then who should?

We have a name of chesed we have a name that we are a community. Please live up to the name and don't exclude people.

Dear Readers

My younger children find it difficult to swallow tablets and I would appreciate any advice you may have.

Yours sincerely,

J.M.

Dear Readers

I would personally like to thank two organisations that helped me tremendously this past week.

Firstly, Hatzolah who took the time coming to my home and advising me to take my child into hospital and secondly, Ezra U'Marpeh for their hospital room at the Royal London Hospital.

After being kept in overnight, the "Room" was a tremendous help providing me with baby food, milk and reading material. When I walked in at 9am on Friday morning, the room was fully stocked with fresh Shabbos food and an already laid Shabbos table, with Challos, a silver becher and place settings. Thank you Mr Laube and the Ezra U'Marpeh team.

Tizku lemitzvos.

Shmuly.* His gorgeous smile danced before Mrs. R.'s eyes as she peeled vegetables, as she folded another fresh pair of socks, and as she swept the floor. He took center stage in her mind and heart. Truthfully, she didn't have to envision his face – she could actually see it all day long.

You see, Shmuly was home all day.

Challenged with certain learning difficulties, Shmuly was sent home from yeshivah when he couldn't keep up. His parents pleaded with the hanhalah to keep him, with extra help. But it was not to be. With no other choice, they tried getting him into alternate yeshivos, trying every yeshivah that was even remotely suitable, and learning to deal with the inevitable "no." It was painful. But more so, it was growing desperate.

How long can a young bachur sit and twiddle his thumbs? Shmuly needed a framework where he would be among peers, use his time wisely, and have a chance for success.

On one particularly challenging morning, Mrs. R. noticed an ad for Tehillim Kollel and immediately called up. What more could she ask for than to have a minyan of bnei Torah daven for her son every single morning, in addition to her own soaked Tehillim!?

Tehillim is more powerful than we'd ever imagine, Mrs. R. discovered, when just one week later, the menahel of her son's former yeshivah called. "We'd be happy to have Shmuly back," he said.

It was the best case scenario, prompted by the tried-and-true segulah of Tehillim.
