To The Person That Asked About Appliance Insurance

We've been using Domestic & General for many years. As far as we know they are the only company that does this.

Their customer service is really not good, you need a lot of patience, trying to get through to them and waiting for a repair can take 2 weeks for a callout to fix or replace appliances.

But if you persevere you will get the appliance seen to in the end.

Any item that costs more than £300 to fix is not worth it for them and they will replace it for you with a brand new item, like for like, which is really amazing.

I've managed to replace many of my damaged appliances, if you have the patience to wait a little.

K.R.

Dear F.G.

With regard to your inquiry regarding insurance for home appliances, I've had experience with the following 2 companies and received good rates.

1. Homeshield Direct - 0800 023 6178
2. Repair and Assure - 0800 088 2943

Good luck.

D.D.

Dear Readers

Regarding the query about a fixed headline that don't charge for talking over an hour:

I use a company called Communication City, which I'm very happy with. They have great packages for talking for over an hour, including to the US, Israel and Europe.

Their number is 0203 603 1411, Hatzlocho

S.S.

Dear S.K.

The words you shared last week with the public re shadchonim is the feeling and opinion of many people in the community. As a parent of a large family and besiyateh dishmayeh married off a few children, I would like to share the other way of how to approach and achieve the tachlis we really need, to see our children happily married.

Let's be positive, the shadchonim spend many hours a day to help us, true that not all of them are very professional and sometimes it may seem that their suggestion is not at all compatible. Sometimes we feel degraded, but if we think deeper we would realise that they are innocent and don't have any bad intentions. For what reason would they want to hurt us?

It's a total mistake to think they do it for business. If from 40 suggestions one works out, he is a star. A regular shidduch that works out takes from the shadchan minimum 50 calls and enormous amount of stress until the l'chayim. When we pay the minimum amount of £1500, for the many hours of suggestions this does not include all the hours worked for shidduchim that did not work out.

My suggestion is:

- 1) Do not wait for the shadchan to call, reach out to them. Find the shadchan you trust and feel comfortable with him/her, meet and discuss what you would like for your child, and together bring out the positive and the negative from your own family or the child's status. He does not have the blindness we have because he is a third party.
- 2) Pay him upfront a small sum of money for the effort he is doing for you.
- 3) If you receive a suggestion that you are not sure about, feels a little off, not enough bechovedig, etc. call your Rav or a good friend to speak it through.
- 4) If you receive a suggestion that you feel is totally off, tell him/her thanks so much for the call but you are not ready for this, when you will be ready you will get back to him.

Let's not forget it's our duty to do the best for our children. On the other side it's all in Hashem's hand, He decides and does what's best for us. With strengthening bitochon and living with emunah, being nice to the shadchan, we will be zoicheh to much nachas and good shidduchim.

S.B.

Dear Readers & Writers

In the time we are busy reading and writing who is to blame in the plight of shidduchim, we could have broken a few plates.

Please, please! Put your pens away and listen to the most inspiring drosho by Reb Yoinesen Schwartz here in London last winter at the gathering for Bayis Neeman.

The shocking facts, our achrayes towards our children and our achrayes towards Shomayim. Your whole perspective will change.

We put the recording on pause in the middle, only to call back a shadchan with second thoughts and to call a foreign relative regretting we had said on a local proposal "not for you!"

The recording was sent with Luach Hayom emails last week, surely they can provide or can Bayis Neeman please, as part of their efforts in this matter, let us via the Write Lines, have a number to call!!

Smashing simches bekorev!! (Plates...)
